METHODOLOGY:

-  The Portfolio adopts a quantitative and qualitative approach based on fact based to portfolio selection.
-  The Portfolio is based on combination with an understanding of individual stocks Beta and other technical indicators to determine a suitable target.
-  The portfolio is designed for Short term purely on technically sound securities recommendation. Hence on regular intervals profit booking is necessary.

Note: As all above stocks are purely selected on the basis of technical Analysis Hence it may be possible that fundamentals of some stocks are not in line as per standard mode of acceptance. Hence only Risky traders with short term duration (less than 1 year) will accumulate these stocks at prescribed levels. Moreover all above stocks are currently corrected from their highs and right now trading their near by support levels. There is a possibility that spot index may further continue its southward journey near to 7700-7500 due to current economic scenario but we believe 2nd half of 2017 could be more favorable to investors.....
